RAILROAD STRIKE CALLED OFF

UNION LEADERS VOTE WITHDRAW STRIKE ORDERS

VOTE WAS UNANIMOUS—"IT'S ALL OVER," SHOUT UNION MEN
HAPPY

L. E. SHEPPARD MAKES STATE-MENT GIVING REASONS FOR ACTION OF MEN

Chicago, Oct. 28.—The rail strike scheduled for Oct. 30 was averted last night when leaders of the switchmen, trainmen, conductors, engineers and firemen at a joint meeting adopted resolutions withdrawing authorization of a walkout and officials of the railroad telegraphers' organization announced they would take similar action. These were the only unions which had authorized a strike.

The vote calling off the strike was unanimous by organization, W. G. Lee, president of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, announced. The official wording of the resolution adopted was that the "strike be declared not effective."

No Opposition Confirmed

Unofficial reports were that the firemen's executives had strenuously opposed adoption of the resolution. None of the presidents would confirm this, however.

L. E. Sheppard, president of the Order of Railroad Conductors, said that the unions had decided to call off the strike because of "the growing public opinion that the strike would be against the labor board and consequently the government, and not against the railroads."

Administration Opposed

"It was evident also that the entire Washington administration was opposed to us and that we had little chance of gaining our objectives," said Mr. Sheppard.

"We called this strike to gain certain rights to which our men were entitled," Mr. Sheppard said.

Strike Against Nation

"It soon became evident, however, that the roads were succeeding in their misleading propaganda to the effect that we really would be striking against the government."

"This railway propaganda found its way to the United States railroad labor board. This governmental agency told us that it would look on a strike as against it and the government, and not against the roads, and that the full force of the government would be brought to bear against us if we walked out. Under such circumstances there was nothing to do but annul our orders for the Oct. 30 walk-out."

First Announcement

The first announcement of the executives' action was made by Mr. Lee. Rushing to the floor below the hotel meeting room, where dozens of newspaper reporters were congregated, he smilingly shouted:

"The strike is off boys, but I've got one copy of the resolution and I'll show that to you tomorrow."

All of the union men were smiling as they came out and many of them jocularly pushed and shoved each other down the stairs. To all queries, most of them merely replied:

"It's all settled. See you tomorrow."

The code message calling off the strike, arranged in advance, will be sent this morning, the union heads said. A code word will be sent to each general chairman of the union and he will in turn forward the order to each of the subordinate officials under him.

Strikers May Not Regain Jobs

Houston, Tex., Oct. 28.—Union men who quit their jobs on the International & Great Northern of Texas last Saturday in compliance with union orders, may not be taken back to work, it was indicated by railroad chiefs here today.

"The men were not discharged. They left of their own free will. When a man leaves the railroad for six days or six months to go on strike or to engage in business, he automatically loses his seniority rights with the railroad," was the expression of different officials.

The men struck as a "preliminary" of the nation-wide walkout.

Make Rail Strikes Impossible.

Washington, Oct. 28.—With a general railroad strike averted after it threatened the country for two weeks, a general movement was started in congress to make such a step impossible in the future.

The chief means to this end will be to put "teeth" in the Esch-Cummins railroad law by making decisions of the railway labor board mandatory on both the carriers and employees.

Meanwhile more freight rate reductions are expected to be announced soon by the I.C.C. as a result of the cancellation of the strike call. The administration had decided it would not be coerced into certain steps previously contemplated by the strike situation.

Reduction in freight rates on lumber, fruit and vegetables from the Pacific coast have virtually been agreed upon.

WILL DISCLOSE FEAR OF BEING BURIED ALIVE

(By United Press.)

Minneapolis, Oct. 28.—Possessed with a fear that he would be buried alive J. C. Slaton provided in his will that survivors follow instructions to convince them of actual death.

The will filed with the attorney general today from which an inheritance tax of $3,204 was paid the state, provided that survivors hold the body until disintegration began. After decay began an expert was called in to pronounce final judgment. The remains were incinerated until no ashes remained.

Slaton died last December and left an estate of $133,620.

Girl Is Arrested For Using Mails to Defraud

(By United Press.)

Fargo, N. D., Oct. 28.—Marion Victor, 24, will be brought here from New York to stand trial on charges of using the mails to defraud, District Attorney Hildreth said today. The girl is accused of having defrauded an Edgerly, N. D., bachelor, 48 years old, out of $359 after promising to marry him. They met in Milwaukee and were betrothed, he charged. After he returned home she got money through letters, he said. He is en route to New York as witness in a preliminary hearing she demanded.

Bonus Bill Offered As Amendment To Tax Bill In The Senate

(By United Press.)

Washington, Oct. 28.—The "soldier bonus bill" as reported favorably to the senate and subsequently recommended to the finance committee at the request of President Harding, was offered as an amendment to the pending compromise tax bill in the senate today by Senator Reed, Missouri, democrat.

The movement of Reed will force the senate to take a direct vote on the question of awarding adjusted compensation to the veterans of the world war.

No previous vote has been taken in the senate on the question.

President Arrives Back in Washington

(By United Press.)

Washington, Oct. 28.—President Harding believes that action by the senate in increasing the surtax rates in the revenue revision bill from 32 to 50 per cent will hamper government efforts to rehabilitate the railroads, it was learned shortly after he returned to the White House from his southern trip today. The president's train arrived shortly after 11 o'clock.

GEN. FOCH GIVEN ROYAL WELCOME

ARRIVES IN NEW YORK TODAY TO ATTEND LEGION CONVENTION AND SEE AMERICA

(By United Press.)

New York, Oct. 28.—With shrieking sirens, booming cannon and wave after wave of cheers, America today welcomed Ferdinand Foch, marshal of France.

The great military leader enroute to attend the American Legion convention at Kansas City, Mo., arrived this afternoon on the French liner Paris and landed at the Battery.

Foch's welcome was that of a conqueror.

General Pershing, who arrived on the George Washington from Europe shortly before Foch, preceded him to the battery and welcomed him when he technically set foot on American soil when he stepped from the tug Vigilant to the pier.

Close behind the George Washington was the French liner Paris with Foch aboard.

EXPECT TO ARREST MURDER OF FATHER BELKNAP TOMORROW

(By United Press.)

Leads, S. D., Oct. 28.—"We expect to arrest the murderer of Father A. B. Belknap shortly," Sheriff Lugey said at noon today. County Attorney Fowler made the same statement. He said the name of the murderer was known, but it could not be announced.

Earlier in the day it was said authorities were seeking Andrew Orlando, who disappeared from his boarding house fifteen hours after the murder.

Bloodhounds from Lincoln failed to trace the murderer but Sheriff Lugey suggested that they might be tried again. On the first trail they followed the trail to the home of Tony Bartolino who was said to be the first man on the scene after the fatal shots were fired.

Father Belknap was shot down at 3:30 Wednesday morning after he had been called from his bed on a pretense of administering the last rites of the church to a dying man. The murderer led him to the west end of the town and after striking him down fired several shots one of which penetrated his heart.

DECISION RESERVED IN STILLMAN CASE

(By United Press.)

New York, Oct. 28.—Decision was reserved on Mrs. James Stillman's application for the guardianship of her two sons, James A. Stillman, Jr., 19, and Alexander, 10, when it came up in the surrogate court here today.

ASTER ARE LACKING

(By United Press.)

San Francisco, Oct. 28.—A Japanese steamer was sunk at midnight in the Pacific 350 miles west of Cape Flattery, Washington.

Passengers and crew were picked up by the steamer West Ivan. None were lost.

Details of the disaster were lacking but dispatches indicated sudden gales approaching in the violence of a hurricane was responsible.

Both the vessels were bound from Seattle to Japan.

$50,000 Libel Suit Grows Out of Un- solved Murder Case

(By United Press.)

St. Paul, Oct. 28.—A $50,000 libel suit has grown out of the unsolved murder of Wm. Conoma, wealthy Rochester, Minn., pool hall proprietor.

The suit has not been filed but attorneys for Miss Adelia Nadeau, manicurist, today said papers had been served on Mrs. Henry Brandt, widow of Conoma, and three others. A St. Paul newspaper will be the chief defendant, it was said.

Frank E. McAllister, attorney for Miss Nadeau, said the suit will not be filed until it can be placed on the district court calendar on the fall term of court.

Miss Nadeau's name was used in connection with the death of Conoma whose body was found near his wrecked automobile on the Jefferson highway ten miles south of here last March. She was questioned by local police for about five minutes after police were informed she was friendly with Conoma. She denied that she even knew him.

Soon after the murder Conoma's widow married Henry Brandt, a business associate of the dead man. Conoma was said to have left an estate valued at $40,000.

FOREST FIRE DANGERS PAST FOR THIS YEAR

(By United Press.)

St. Paul, Oct. 28.—The forest fire danger in Minnesota is over for this season, forestry officials said today.

Unless some unforeseen situation develops there will be no serious fires from now on.

Conditions a month ago were ripe for disastrous fires but emergency measures making $30,000 available for patrol work in the forests enabled the forestry department to cope with the situation. Dozens of extra men were employed who extinguished scores of small fires which if neglected might have caused huge damage.

There will be no further serious danger until spring when the hot sun will dry out dead grass.

NON PARTISAN LEAGUE FATE DECIDED TODAY

VOTERS OF NORTH DAKOTA VOT-
ING ON RECALL OF LEAGUE
STATE OFFICERS

(By United Press.)

Fargo, Oct. 28.—North Dakota voters went to the polls today to decide against or for nonpartisanism.

Both sides felt that today was the crucial—if not the final test of the government experience inaugurated by the Nonpartisan league.

Independents sought to oust Governor Lynn Frazier and his two leading henchmen in the midst of their terms by means of a recall. It is the first time the recall has been used in this way in America.

They also sought to quash much of the Nonpartisan program through initiating laws and the constitutional amendments including dissolution of the Bank of North Dakota.

Expect 200,000 Votes Cast

Indications were around 200,000 votes would be cast today.

Neither side believes the vote would reach the 229,606 votes cast for both gubernatorial candidates last year in the general election. Women's votes were expected to be more numerous.

Apathy earlier in the campaign has disappeared. There seems to be more interest probably aroused by last minute efforts of both sides to make a final issue out of it. The state has been flooded with speakers for both sides.

Both Sides Claim Victory

Nonpartisans asserted they would win the election by at least 25,000. They base their claims chiefly on the quashing of the Jamestown indictment against the Bank of North Dakota. It was the biggest thing that could have happened in their favor.

Independents were equally confident although more conservative as to their probable majority. They said they would win by 15,000 to 20,000.

In the recall ballot voters were to cross the name of the candidate they were voting for.

In the constitutional laws and amendments they were to vote "yes" to pass them or "no" to defeat them.

Light Rain in Morning

Fargo, Oct. 28.—A light rain in the morning threatened to hold down the voting to some extent in this section as balloting in the recall election progressed. Reports from widely scattered points indicated balloting about normal for early morning. The heaviest voting was expected this afternoon and tonight. The sun was trying to shine through the clouds and indications were favorable for a clear afternoon.

Blismarck, Oct. 28.—Destruction, emasculation or vindication of the National Nonpartisan league is in the hands of the North Dakota voters today.

Using the weapon which the Nonpartisan leaguers themselves gave them, enemies of the party founded by A. C. Townley, are seeking to recall Lynn J. Frazier, governor; Wm. Lemke, attorney general; and John A. Hagen, commissioner of agriculture and labor, the three who compose the industrial commission in charge of the state industries, the children which the Nonpartisan league was created to bring into existence.

At the same time ten constitutional amendments and initiated measures designed to take the teeth out of the Nonpartisan administration are before the voters. They dissolve the state bank, called the parent of the industries and limit the program to the completion of the state mill and elevator already begun in Grand Forks. "Salvaging the remains" is the campaign slogan. Nonpartisans declare it is death to the program and even the Grand Forks project can never be completed if these laws pass.

If officers are recalled and the measures passed, Nonpartisanism will be stamped out in his cradle at the age of five years. If the officers are returned and the measure passed, as the less sanguinary nonpartisans predict, the administration's hands will be tied; the things for which they stand will be impossible of fulfillment. In fact some Nonpartisans declare defeat of the measure is more important than retaining the officers.

On the other hand, if the majority of the people of North Dakota again endorse the governor and his program by killing the measures Nonpartisanism will again flourish, especially since sufficient state bonds have been sold since the beginning of the campaign to take up their work. Director General Cathro of the Bank of North Dakota, has announced that a Toledo firm has bought about $2,000,000 of the bonds, making a total of $4,000,000 sold in all, and the same firm has contracted to sell the remainder of the $17,000,000.

It may be the last big stand against the league. At the primaries next June, the enemies of the Nonpartisans will be divided among themselves. The progressives and stand patters will divide the republicans and the democrats, many of whom are united with the republicans in opposing the league will have a congressional ticket of their own in the field, having become incensed over the distribution of federal patronage, which threw some of them out of lucrative appointments.

Even in this election, leaguers expected to get what is commonly called the "McKenzie" vote, the vote of the old line republicans, who are opposing the recall. This vote is only about 10,000 it is estimated, but even that would be the balance of power if the lines were drawn as they were last November.

The nonpartisan league was conceived late in 1915. In the primaries of 1916, they captured the republican party and nominated Lynn J. Frazier by nearly 7,000 over the straight republican candidate. In the fall Frazier was elected over the democrat by about 57,000.

The league majority has since been cut by every election.

In 1916 the nonpartisans got the lower house of the state legislature; in 1918 both houses and in 1920 lost the lower house.

At the republican primaries in 1918, Frazier was elected governor by about 16,000 and in the fall had a majority of 17,000 over the fusion candidate on the democratic ticket.

The test of strength came in June, 1919, on the referred measure passed by the nonpartisan legislature to create the industrial program. These laws carried by majorities ranging from 7,000 to 13,000.

In the republican primaries last year Governor Frazier was safe by something over 5,000. In the fall he was elected by less than 5,000 and some said he slipped by with the national ticket, being in the republican column.

LARGEST ELECTRIC SIGN IN THE WORLD

(By United Press.)

London, Oct. 28.—Operation of what is believed to be the largest electrical sign in existence has just commenced here. The sign, shaped like a star, measuring a quarter of a mile from point to point, serves as a guide for the cross-Channel air pilots in landing at night.

The lights are sunk in a grove covered with heavy glass, level with the ground, so that the planes can taxi right across them in landing. The lighting is so arranged that a huge "L" may be displayed to indicate the direction of the wind.

The giant sign is installed at Croydon, the London air station, and landing there will be further facilitated by a searchlight so powerful that it can be seen from a distance of 30 miles, and so penetrating that it can be seen even through a heavy cloud bank. Buildings adjacent to the aerodrome will also be outlined in electric lights to avoid collisions in night flying.

The station, as now built and with the minor improvements to be made, is believed to be the best equipped for flying in the world.

BURCH TALKS OF KENNEDY MURDER

SAYS HE NEVER SAW THE MAN OF WHOSE MURDER HE IS
INDICTED

(By United Press.)

Los Angeles, Cal., Oct. 28.—Arthur C. Burch, the enigmatic figure in the Kennedy murder case, broke his silence today for the first time since the tragedy and told the United Press the story he will relate from the witness stand next Tuesday when he goes on trial for his life.

"I never saw J. Belton Kennedy in my life," Burch asserted.

"I am in jail and under indictment for his murder because I threw a part of a torn telegraph blank in a waste paper basket in my room at the Russell hotel."

"They charge this telegram was from Madeline Obenchain telling me to come to Los Angeles from Illinois. That is absurd. It was a message from my business partner. I will prove it."

"Why did you select the Russell hotel directly across the street from Kennedy's offices for your stay in Los Angeles?" Burch was asked.

"Limited finances I guess," he said. "What trick of fate led me there I do not know, but I figured it was the cheapest hotel close to the business district."

"Did you know it overlooked Kennedy's offices?" he was asked.

"Yes," he said. "At least I found it out after I had moved into the hotel."

Burch, baldheaded and cheerful, does not appear worried by the fact that on Tuesday he will face the jury charging him with shooting young Kennedy to death because they both loved Madeline Obenchain.

BRITISH WORKERS OPPOSE ANGLO- JAP ALLIANCE

(By United Press.)

London, Oct. 28.—British workers have determined to scrap the Anglo-Japanese alliance which would lead to another world war, Robert Williams, president of the International Transportation Workers Federation, declared today in an exclusive interview with the United Press.

If necessary the council of action for preventing the Anglo-Polish treaty against Russia will be re-established, Williams said.

Marionette, Wis., Oct. 28.—Richard Haash, 28, was almost instantly killed yesterday when a rifle which he was cleaning was discharged. The bullet pierced his brain.

NON PARTISAN
LEAGUE FATE
DECIDED TODAYVOTERS OF NORTH DAKOTA VOT-
ING ON RECALL OF LEAGUE
STATE OFFICERS

(By United Press.)

Fargo, Oct. 28.—North Dakota voters went to the polls today to decide against or for nonpartisanism.

Both sides felt that today was the crucial—if not the final test of the government experience inaugurated by the Nonpartisan league.

Independents sought to oust Governor Lynn Frazier and his two leading henchmen in the midst of their terms by means of a recall. It is the first time the recall has been used in this way in America.

They also sought to quash much of the Nonpartisan program through initiating laws and the constitutional amendments including dissolution of the Bank of North Dakota.

Expect 200,000 Votes Cast

Indications were around 200,000 votes would be cast today.

Neither side believes the vote would reach the 229,606 votes cast for both gubernatorial candidates last year in the general election. Women's votes were expected to be more numerous.

Apathy earlier in the campaign has disappeared. There seems to be more interest probably aroused by last minute efforts of both sides to make a final issue out of it. The state has been flooded with speakers for both sides.

Both Sides Claim Victory

Nonpartisans asserted they would win the election by at least 25,000. They base their claims chiefly on the quashing of the Jamestown indictment against the Bank of North Dakota. It was the biggest thing that could have happened in their favor.

Independents were equally confident although more conservative as to their probable majority. They said they would win by 15,000 to 20,000.

In the recall ballot voters were to cross the name of the candidate they were voting for.

In the constitutional laws and amendments they were to vote "yes" to pass them or "no" to defeat them.

Light Rain in Morning

Fargo, Oct. 28.—A light rain in the morning threatened to hold down the voting to some extent in this section as balloting in the recall election progressed. Reports from widely scattered points indicated balloting about normal for early morning. The heaviest voting was expected this afternoon and tonight. The sun was trying to shine through the clouds and indications were favorable for a clear afternoon.

Bismarck, Oct. 28.—Destruction, emasculation or vindication of the National Nonpartisan league is in the hands of the North Dakota voters today.

Using the weapon which the Nonpartisan leaguers themselves gave them, enemies of the party founded by A. C. Townley, are seeking to recall Lynn J. Frazier, governor; Wm. Lennke, attorney general; and John A. Hagen, commissioner of agriculture and labor, the three who compose the industrial commission in charge of the state industries, the children 'which the Nonpartisan league was created to bring into existence.

At the same time ten constitutional amendments and initiated measures designed to take the teeth out of the Nonpartisan administration are before the voters. They dissolve the state bank, called the parent of the industries and limit the program to the completion of the state mill and elevator already begun in Grand Forks. "Salvaging the remains" is the campaign slogan. Nonpartisans declare it is death to the program and even the Grand Forks project can never be completed if these laws pass.

If officers are recalled and the measures passed, Nonpartisanism will be stamped out in his cradle at the age of five years. If the officers are returned and the measure passed, as the less sanguinary nonpartisans predict, the administration's hands will be tied; the things for which they stand will be impossible of fulfillment. In fact some Nonpartisans declare defeat of the measure is more important than retaining the officers.

On the other hand, if the majority of the people of North Dakota again endorse the governor and his program by killing the measures Nonpartisanism will again flourish, especially since sufficient state bonds have been sold since the beginning of the campaign to take up their work. Director General Cathro of the Bank of North Dakota, has announced that a Toledo firm has bought about $2,000,000 of the bonds, making a total of $4,000,000 sold in all, and the same firm has contracted to sell the remainder of the $17,000,000.

It may be the last big stand against the league. At the primaries next June, the enemies of the Nonpartisans will be divided among themselves. The progressives and stand patters will divide the republicans and the democrats, many of whom are united with the republicans in opposing the league will have a congressional ticket of their own in the field, having become incensed over the distribution of federal patronage, which threw some of them out of lucrative appointments.

Even in this election, leaguers expected to get what is commonly called the "McKenzie" vote, the vote of the old line republicans, who are opposing the recall. This vote is only about 10,000 it is estimated, but even that would be the balance of power if the lines were drawn as they were last November.

Nonpartisan league was conceived late in 1915. In the primaries of 1916, they captured the republican party and nominated Lynn J. Frazier by nearly 7,000 over the straight republican candidate. In the fall Frazier was elected over the democrat by about 57,000.

The league majority has since been cut by every election.

In 1916 the nonpartisans got the lower house of the state legislature; in 1918 both houses and in 1920 lost the lower house.

At the republican primaries in 1918, Frazier was elected governor by about 18,000 and in the fall had a majority of 17,000 over the fusion candidate on the democratic ticket.

The test of strength came in June, 1919, on the referred measure passed by the nonpartisan legislature to create the industrial program. These laws carried by majorities ranging from 7,000 to 13,000.

In the republican primaries last year Governor Frazier was safe by something over 5,000. In the fall he was elected by less than 5,000 and some said he slipped by with the national ticket, being in the republican column.

LARGEST ELECTRIC
SIGN IN THE WORLD

(By United Press.)

London, Oct. 28.—Operation of what is believed to be the largest electrical sign in existence has just commenced here. The sign, shaped like a star, measuring a quarter of a mile from point to point, serves as a guide for the cross-Channel air pilots in landing at night.

The lights are sunk in a grove covered with heavy glass, level with the ground, so that the planes can taxi right across them in landing. The lighting is so arranged that a huge "L" may be displayed to indicate the direction of the wind.

The giant sign is installed at Croydon, the London air station, and landing there will be further facilitated by a searchlight so powerful that it can be seen from a distance of 30 miles, and so penetrating that it can be seen even through a heavy cloud bank. Buildings adjacent to the aerodrome will also be outlined in electric lights to avoid collisions in night flying.

The station, as now built and with the minor improvements to be made, is believed to be the best equipped for flying in the world.

BURCH TALKS OF
KENNEDY MURDERSAYS HE NEVER SAW THE MAN OF WHOSE MURDER HE IS
INDICTED

(By United Press.)

Los Angeles, Cal., Oct. 28.—Arthur C. Burch, the enigmatic figure in the Kennedy murder case, broke his silence today for the first time since the tragedy and told the United Press the story he will relate from the witness stand next Tuesday when he goes on trial for his life.

"I never saw J. Belton Kennedy in my life," Burch asserted.

"I am in jail and under indictment for his murder because I threw a part of a torn telegraph blank in a waste paper basket in my room at the Russell hotel."

"They charge this telegram was from Madeline Obenchain telling me to come to Los Angeles from Illinois. That is absurd. It was a message from my business partner. I will prove it."

"Why did you select the Russell hotel directly across the street from Kennedy's offices for your stay in Los Angeles?" Burch was asked.

"Limited finances I guess," he said. "What trick of fate led me there I do not know, but I figured it was the cheapest hotel close to the business district."

"Did you know it overlooked Kennedy's offices?" he was asked.

"Yes," he said. "At least I found it out after I had moved into the hotel."

Burch, baldheaded and cheerful, does not appear worried by the fact that on Tuesday he will face the jury charging him with shooting young Kennedy to death because they both loved Madeline Obenchain.

BRITISH WORKERS
OPPOSE ANGLO-
JAP ALLIANCE

(By United Press.)

London, Oct. 28.—British workers have determined to scrap the Anglo-Japanese alliance which would lead to another world war, Robert Williams, president of the International Transportation Workers Federation, declared today in an exclusive interview with the United Press.

If necessary the council of action for preventing the Anglo-Polish treaty against Russia will be re-established, Williams said.

SHOOTS AND KILLS
FORMER SWEETHEART
ALSO HIS RIVAL

(By United Press.)

LaCrosse, Wis., Oct. 28.—Miss Cecil Kerstein died here late last night as a result of gunshot wounds said to have been inflicted by her former sweetheart, Peter Kleinow, Wednesday night. Harvey Sass, suitor of Miss Kerstein, was also seriously wounded.

The shooting was said to have been the result of the engagement between Kleinow and Miss Kerstein having been broken off after the girl had received the attentions of Sass, who was calling on the girl at the time of the shooting.

LEGIONAIRES ARRIVE
AT KANSAS CITY
BY AIRPLANE

(By United Press.)

Kansas City, Mo., Oct. 28.—Arrivals by airplane featured by a one-stop flight from New York by three machines marked preparations for the national American Legion convention here today.

The planes from New York were J-L sixes, and are owned by John M. Larsen. One carried six passengers including Augustus Post, president of the Aerial Club of America. The machines will enter the aerial derby.

Sidney DesMaris, manager of the Central Construction Co. of Staples, is in St. Joseph's hospital in Brainerd, where he is convalescing after a serious operation for appendicitis. The acute attack came last Thursday and he left the same evening for Brainerd. The operation was entirely successful, but it will be at least a couple of weeks before he will be back again at his work.

The agitation started to continue the tourist season throughout the fall is bearing fruit. Although not such a heavy run as in summer, tourists are seen with camping outfits and a large proportion motored to Central Minnesota for ducks and other game. If the roads remain clear, there will be a large exodus of deer hunters from the cities and neighboring states to get deer and moose in northern Minnesota.

Are you anxious to get the most out of your spare time this Winter? BRAINERD HIGH TO LONG PRAIRIE

(Contributed by V. G.)

The Brainerd high school football squad will journey to Long Prairie tomorrow to wage battle on foreign ground and to make a desperate effort to redeem themselves for last week's submission to Crosby. The prospects of the coming game are very promising, although our opponents outweigh the local eleven on every position, but it is believed that through a series of fast, decisive plays, Brainerd can overwhelm the heavier team.

The line-up looks especially good since Sargeant, Brainerd's smashing line plunger, has returned to his old position at full-back, while every means is being employed to strengthen the line, which failed us in last week's game. The men are all in earnest and in the pink of condition after the hard workouts they have received during the week.

Transportation, which seemed to be the main obstacle previous to the game, is being arranged, and great credit is due those loaning their cars and thus making this game possible, as railroad connections are extremely poor.

Brainerd will go out on the field to fight from start to finish and to make a good showing in a town which they have never played before. They are not expected to run up a spectacular score, but we are confident that they will bring home the bacon.

STOCKS OF REAL BEER MAY BE SOLD AS MEDICINE

Washington, Oct. 27.—Large stocks of real beer now held by breweries, some of which was made in pre-Volstead days, can be sold at once under the medicinal beer regulations, Secretary of the Treasury Mellon said today.

Let's look ahead twenty years

Wage earners who are now saving steadily will have comfortable fortunes. Many of them will work up to good positions. Some will be interested in business. Some will own homes. Many will have the means to send their children to college.

Business and industry will keep on growing. Fine office buildings, factories and shops will spring up. Public improvements will come. There will be more wealth per capita.

This bank is celebrating its fortieth birthday by renewing its charter for twenty years. It has half the bank deposits in Crow Wing County and will do much to bring these things about. Are you a depositor here?

Ladies' prizes—Wednesday afternoon the first lady bowling a score of exactly 111, a box of candy.

Thursday evening the first lady of the Brainerd Professional and Business Women's Club getting a score of exactly 100, a box of candy.

Friday afternoon the first lady getting a score of exactly 99 gets a box of candy.

Beginning Monday the alleys will be open every morning at 11:00 a. m. and there will be a man pin setter for every alley.

Ladies days are Wednesday and Friday afternoons, besides Thursday evenings when alleys are reserved for members of the Brainerd Professional and Business Women's Club only.

The men's leagues will play on Monday and Friday evenings.

I want to be at the service of the bowlers and suggestions will be gladly received. I want to do all in my power to make bowling a good, clean and wholesome sport in Brainerd.

BRAINERD HIGH TO LONG PRAIRIE

(Contributed by W. G.)

The Brainerd high school football squad will journey to Long Prairie tomorrow to wage battle on foreign ground and to make a desperate effort to redeem themselves for last week's submission to Crosby. The prospects of the coming game are very promising, although our opponents outweigh the local eleven on every position, but it is believed that through a series of fast, decisive plays, Brainerd can overwhelm the heavier team.

The line-up looks especially good since Sargeant, Brainerd's smashing line plunger, has returned to his old position at full-back, while every means is being employed to strengthen the line, which failed us in last week's game. The men are all in earnest and in the pink of condition after the hard workouts they have received during the week.

Transportation, which seemed to be the main obstacle previous to the game, is being arranged, and great credit is due those loaning their cars and thus making this game possible, as railroad connections are extremely poor.

Brainerd will go out on the field to fight from start to finish and to make a good showing in a town which they have never played before. They are not expected to run up a spectacular score, but we are confident that they will bring home the bacon.

STOCKS OF REAL BEER MAY BE SOLD AS A MEDICINE

(By United Press)

Washington, Oct. 27.—Large stocks of real beer now held by breweries, some of which was made in pre-Volstead days, can be sold at once under the medicinal beer regulations, Secretary of the Treasury Mellon said today.

Let's look ahead twenty years

Wage earners who are now saving steadily will have comfortable fortunes. Many of them will work up to good positions. Some will be interested in business. Some will own homes. Many will have the means to send their children to college.

Business and industry will keep on growing. Fine office buildings, factories and shops will spring up. Public improvements will come. There will be more wealth per capita.

This bank is celebrating its fortieth birthday by renewing its charter for twenty years. It has half the bank deposits in Crow Wing County and will do much to bring these things about. Are you a depositor here?

ELKS PLAN FOR BIG INITIATION

General Committee of the Cuyuna Iron Range Perfects Plans to Initiate Class of Fifty

ENROLLED WITH BRAINERD 615

Plans Include Parade Headed by a Band, Initiation in Ironton, Banquet at the Armory in Crosby

The general committee of the B. P. O. E. of the range met at the Crosby armory Monday evening and perfected plans for the initiation of the fifty candidates secured in their drive last week. They will be enrolled with Brainerd Lodge No. 615, Wednesday, November 23.

Initiation ceremonies will be held in the Ironton village hall, followed by a banquet at the armory. Nothing is being left undone to make this the most memorable initiation ever held on the range.

The plans include a parade, formed in Crosby, headed by the band, with Charles Middleton on his high horse, to escort the candidates to the hall. After the initiation, they will march to the armory for the banquet and speeches. E. P. Scallion will be toast master, and some prominent Elks from Duluth and Brainerd will deliver addresses.

The following committees were appointed:

General Committee—J. P. Anderson, chairman, Louis Bauer, secretary, A. H. Proctor, treasurer, E. R. Burns, M. F. Crosby, Robert Marsh and George Ridley.

Reception Committee—J. P. Anderson, Louis Bauer, E. R. Burns, Robert Marsh, A. H. Proctor, E. V. Anderson, P. J. Long, M. F. Crosby, George Ridley, Theo. Johnson, E. P. Scallion, L. J. Alberts, Dr. Smith, Dr. Allen.

Banquet Committee—Louis Bauer, chairman, Archie Groun, M. F. Crosby.

Decorating Committee—H. Linnemann, chairman, Robert Mayheu, A. C. Gilbertson, H. G. Krause, Stanley Jorgenson, H. M. Stetson, Wm. Seafeld, H. E. Thellin, Ben Frodl, R. P. Huard.

Parade Committee—Charles Middleton, chairman, Ed. Pollo, Thos. Mulvaney, J. C. Pieret, George Ridley, Jas. Ruspina, G. E. Peck, E. A. Romaine.

Music Committee—Robert Marsh, Theo. Johnson, A. H. Proctor, and J. P. Anderson.

Entertainment Committee—J. P. Anderson, chairman, Louis Bauer, E. R. Burns, Robert Marsh, A. H. Proctor, M. F. Crosby, George Ridley.

Publicity Committee—Theo. Johnson, A. L. Sheets.

Transportation Committee—G. E. Peck, chairman, Harry Koop, Wm. Seafeld, W. A. Syreen, H. M. Stetson, C. J. Sullivan, L. J. Alberts, E. A. Romaine.

Refreshment Committee—E. R. Burns, B. Frodl, R. P. Huard.

The general and the special committees will hold a meeting in the directors' room at the First National Bank of Ironton, next Tuesday evening, Nov. 1.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR

Presbyterian Society Held Business Session and Officers are Elected

The Christian Endeavor society of the First Presbyterian church held a business meeting on Wednesday evening. Election of officers was held and plans discussed for the improvement of the society.

It was planned to hold a social event on the evening of Armistice Day, Nov. 11, at the Hughey Parsonage, southeast of town.

Plans were also made for a musical entertainment to be held in the church on Wednesday evening, Nov. 16. Miss Cecil Morrison was elected chairman of the committee in arrangements for the entertainment, with power to select the remainder of her committee.

The report of the nominating committee was read and, on motion, duly adopted, and the following officers were unanimously elected.

Honorable Presidents—Mrs. Lloyd Jones, Mrs. W. H. Wagner, Harry Hughey and S. J. Bierhouse.

President—Miss Cecil Morrison.

Secretary and Treasurer—Miss Mayme Britton.

Chairman, Look Out Committee—Miss Ellen Dillan.

Chairman, Prayer Meeting Committee—Marion Opsahl.

Chairman, Missionary—Mrs. J. A. McKay.

Chairman, Social—Ryland Erickson.

Chairman, Flower—Miss Daisy Backen.

Organist—Miss Stella Woolhart.

The chairmen of the various committees are, by constitution, vice presidents in the order named and have the power to select the personnel of their committee from the membership of the society.

The installation of the officers elect will take place on Sunday evening, November 13, and will be a part of the regular evening service.

Origin of Treadmill.

The treadmill that was employed for many years in British prisons for purposes of discipline was invented in prison form by Sir William Cubitt, of Ipswich, and the power produced was employed in grinding corn and flour for food for the prisoners.

Beginning of Manual Training. The earliest official recognition of manual training was given in Finland, where Uno Cygnæus organized a plan for such work in primary schools in 1858, and where such instruction was made compulsory for certain pupils in 1868. Sweden soon after recognized the importance of such training and gave an impetus to the movement.

Oil Can Grip.

A piece of sheet metal bent roughly in the shape of a buffalo's horns, with a hole punched in the center so that it will fit under the spout, which is then screwed in place, makes an admirable finger grip and enables the operator to shoot the oil more accurately.

OUR ALLIED WAR LOANS

Recently the Italian Ambassador, in a statement given to the press of his country, referred to the proposal that the United States cancel the Allied debts as "a vain illusion and useless rhetoric." Then he went on to say that no political leader in this country would dare advocate such a solution of the financial situation, and advised his countrymen that they would take a more profitable attitude by refraining from further advocacy of debt cancellation.

The Ambassador gives the Italian government excellent advice, which deserves the attention of other nations as well. Great Britain, France and ten or more other nations owe the United States over $11,000,000,000. The suggestion is openly made in many of these nations that the debt ought to be cancelled by this country as a part of our contribution to the winning of the war. Why should we cancel it? Haven't we done enough, unselfishly, with the single purpose of "saving Democracy," and not expecting or desiring any other reward?

The Allied debts never will be cancelled. It is best that this should be distinctly understood now. In our opinion friendly relations between the United States and those nations indebted to us would be promoted if the subject should be dropped and not mentioned again.

MINNESOTA STILL BEERLESS

Though beer as a medicine now enjoys full legal status, as far as Federal laws are concerned, through the unexpected action of the Treasury Department in promulgating regulations permitting its sale for that purpose, a state law will still keep Minnesota as beerless as before, and the dry throats of thirsty gophers will not be moistened as a result of the Federal modification by which physicians can prescribe a case of beer.

The state law limits the amount which a physician can prescribe to a pint once in ten days, there being no distinction between whisky and beer in the Minnesota statute. Furthermore, the physician must give the name and address of the patient on his prescription, state for what illness the prescription is necessary, give directions how it is to be used and certify that the illness requires such a prescription.

Attorney General Hilton expresses the opinion that a physician not licensed in this state would not be allowed to prescribe for a Minnesota patient, and shipments of cases of beer sent in from out of the state would be illegal and will not result from the Federal modification.

TAX DODGERS PUTTING UP

The records of the Treasury Department show that nearly $1,000,000 a day is being forced from tax dodgers and individuals and corporations making false or mistaken returns of excess profits and other business taxes. According to estimates of the Internal Revenue bureau, more than $300,000,000 will be collected in this way during the current fiscal year. This estimate is considered as conservative, for such collections in the last twenty months have totalled nearly $500,000,000.

FOREIGN SHEEP'S GLANDS

It is said that a campaign is under way in Chicago to put mentally deficient children on a diet of sheep's glands to stimulate the activity of their brains. However, fear is expressed that if the Democratic tariff law continues in operation much longer we may be obliged to go to Australia or Argentina to get the sheep. But who would want an American child fed on foreign sheep's glands? Perhaps goat substitutes might answer.

If that $1,500,000,000 due in interest from Europe is collected before next tax-paying time, the tax matter would perhaps not be so annoying.

Lenine urges foreign capital to rebuild the Russian railroads—so he can mobilize Bolshevik armies to destroy foreign capital.

For much the same reason that France must remain armed on land, the United States must keep a navy.

It begins to look as if Chicago's crime had a permanent wave in it.

Fighting Submarine in New Photoplay
Those who have wondered how submarines operate will have a chance to satisfy their curiosity when "Wet Gold," the under-sea picture of J. E. Williamson comes to the New Park Theatre today only. The picture discloses a submarine lying on the bottom of the ocean. The boat, which is one of the latest models, 150 feet long, was built specially for this photoplay.

Divers who have been hunting for treasure on the ocean floor, enter the vessel by a trap door under the bow. This is closed and the submarine is seen to rise. Another flash within the submarine shows the operation of the control levers.

Besides this close view of the submarine rising to the surface, "Wet Gold," shows thrillingly the firing of a torpedo. It is loaded into the tube, the chamber locked and the torpedo shot out while the boat is on the surface of the water. The torpedo is seen traveling only a few feet submerged. Through the ingenuity of Mr. Williamson, the torpedo was made to travel at only ten miles an hour, whereas its normal speed would be thirty-five miles.

"At the Ringside," Special Snub Pollard Comedy, at Lyceum

This comedy featuring Snub Pollard may be called timely in view of the recent Dempsey-Carpentier fight, since it exploits a burlesque fist encounter between the comedian with the walrus mustache and an exceptionally comic heavy-weight. Certainly "At the Ringside" is the cleverest Pollard comedy which has been offered in some time. It shows at the Lyceum tonight and Saturday.

GOLD—CHESTS OF IT—HIDDEN AT THE BOTTOM OF THE SEA!

And two parties of adventurers fighting tooth and nail for its possession!

The trail skirts down the Atlantic seaboard, pauses at an exciting race at the Havana track, dips to a lost isle in the South Atlantic and plunges to the very floor of the ocean, where men in grotesque diving suits come to death grips for the treasure.

The underwater scenes are unlike anything you have ever seen. "Wet Gold" will hold you spellbound in your seat! Let's Go!

OUR ALLIED WAR LOANS

Recently the Italian Ambassador, in a statement given to the press of his country, referred to the proposal that the United States cancel the Allied debts as "a vain illusion and useless rhetoric." Then he went on to say that no political leader in this country would dare advocate such a solution of the financial situation, and advised his countrymen that they would take a more profitable attitude by refraining from further advocacy of debt cancellation.

The Ambassador gives the Italian government excellent advice, which deserves the attention of other nations as well. Great Britain, France and ten or more other nations owe the United States over $11,000,000,000. The suggestion is openly made in many of these nations that the debt ought to be cancelled by this country as a part of our contribution to the winning of the war. Why should we cancel it? Haven't we done enough, unselfishly, with the single purpose of "saving Democracy," and not expecting or desiring any other reward?

STOCK TRANSACTION INVOLVES $20,000

Film Flam Stock Sale and Fleecing of Innocent Investors Checked by Bemidji Banker

SWEARS OUT A WARRANT
Sale by Man Using Name of Reputable Brainerd Citizen Dead 5 Years is Halted

A wild-eyed mining stock film flam transaction, involving $20,000 and which had Brainerd as the scene of final action came to grief in Brainerd, when the innocent investors, believed to be ready to be fleeced by the gang, had their eyes opened in time and backed by warrant and police were ready to trap the chief gambler, when in some way or another, somebody tipped off the gamblers and they fled in an automobile.

Arnold Kalland was hired by them to drive to Little Falls and he did not know what passengers he had on board. Three entered the car wearing stiff hats and heavy clothes. When he opened the car at Little Falls he was astonished to see them glad entirely different, and hats had been exchanged for caps. Satisfied with the time he had made on the trip they gave him extra money.

As near as can be ascertained two members of the film flam crowd of operators held forth at Bemidji, one at Brainerd who passed under the assumed name of a reputable Brainerd citizen dead the past five years, and one at Minneapolis.

The stock in question was that of some copper mining company, which, when looked up in the postal guide could not be located. For some time past, it was stated, checks and drafts passed around the circle named, convincing people on the outside that a lot of legitimate sales were being made. That was the bait to tempt Bemidji people.

It was then noised around that 20,000 shares of the stock were held by a Brainerd investor and that he was willing to sell his stock for 99c a share, or $18,000. An option was secured by the Bemidji people. It was considered a great chance to make money, as it was noised that the stock could be sold in Minneapolis for $2.20 a share, making a profit of $26,000.

The Minneapolis end was investigated and it was found that the party there would pay $2.20 a share for the stock and a telegram also indicated such fact.

Everything looked like a good transaction until the banker accompanying the party investigated the Brainerd end and the first shock was to ascertain that the Brainerd man reputed to have the stock for sale was travelling under the name of a man dead five years ago.

It was here that H. C. Baer, president of the Security State bank of Bemidji, swore out a warrant charging one "Frank Sykora", with endeavoring to secure money under false pretences by the sale of papers purporting to be mining stock which were false and of no value.

Police were called with the warrant ready to serve, when the Brainerd confederate who was to make the sale and get the money, was tipped off by some one, got wise, gave the warning and the whole band fled.

International Conference on Unemployment is Advocated

(By United Press.)
London. (By Mail.)—The world unemployment problem will better itself with depressing slowness unless the various nations can make concerted effort.

This opinion was expressed by Whitling Williams, former vice-president of the Hydraulic Steel Company of Cleveland, Ohio, who has spent several years studying the labor problem, and who is now visiting London after working all the summer in the mines and steel plants of France and the Saar.

"Unemployment seems considerably less in France than in Great Britain or America," said Williams. "This is partly because of the shortage of French workers following the war casualties and partly because of the 800,000 French workers at present under arms.

"In Germany the worker is less well paid than before the war. In general his wages have hardly kept up with the 1,000 per cent increase in the cost of living. The middle classes, including teachers, small property holders and the federal employees in the civil, railway and post office services, have been tremendously hard hit, because their wages have hardly increased more than 500 per cent.

"It appears to me all wrong to say that Germany has got back to normal. The real fact is that Germany mines and mills are running simply because Germany has not yet started to get back to normal. Her goods are sold abroad simply by reason of the advantages arising from a currency which is constantly depreciating. Some day or other, Germany must begin setting her financial house in order. The result of that will be a period of vast unemployment and unhappiness.

"It is very evident that the present situation of unemployment is international in its dimensions and also international in its causes.

"The situation will better itself with depressing slowness unless the various nations can make concerted efforts. International causes must be met by international arrangements regarding the limitation of armaments which should greatly help by the saving of enormous sums of money.

"But I should like to see Lloyd

George or M. Briand or President Harding call an International Conference for the consideration of such factors in the situation as international exchange, international credits, tariffs, etc.

"M. Briand expressed to me recently his belief that the diplomats of the near future would find international conferences on such subjects as the prevention of unemployment quite as essential to the happiness of their peoples as the more usual problems of boundaries and other similar affairs.

"Certainly nothing in the world so plays into the hands of all the forces of unrest and revolution as unemployment."

MILLIONS IN ARMIES OF THE WORLD'S POWERS

EDITOR'S NOTE: The following is the fourth of the United Press series of articles dealing with the various aspects of the Washington Conference on Limitation of Armament and Pacific and Far Eastern questions. The article today takes up the military situation.

By A. L. BRADFORD,
(United Press Staff Correspondent.)

Washington, Oct. 23.—France is likely to prove a stumbling-block in efforts to limit land armament in the coming Washington Conference.

The position of France has been heralded far and wide ever since President Harding's call for the Washington Conference as being determined not to cut down her present huge military establishment unless the nations of the world guarantee her security against the "German menace."

It is obvious that the world naval situation looms largest in the Washington Conference. The efforts of the foreign statesmen gathered here to "limit armament" will be principally directed to slowing down the present competitive race in warship construction between Great Britain, the United States and Japan.

But observers here point out that it must not be forgotten that the greatest war of history, the World War, was a conflict of armies and not of navies. So, it is argued, since the Washington Conference is, in a sense, a peace conference, the parley might partially defeat its own end by not giving serious consideration to the question of limiting land armament.

When the conference takes up the limitation of land armament, France is expected to make it known to the foreign plenipotentiaries here that she cannot restrict her military establishment unless one of two things are done:

1.—Ratification of the agreement

	Active Army	Trained Reserve
China	1,370,000	unknown
Russia	538,000	3,500,000,
Poland	450,000	650,000,
Italy	350,000	4,627,000,
Japan	300,000	1,845,000,
		1,750,000
United Kingdom	275,000	3,850,000,
		180,000
United States	170,800	2,847,500,
		185,600
Germany	100,000	4,400,000,
		470,000

drawn up during the peace conference at Paris between the United States and Great Britain and France by which the first two nations guaranteed to come to the aid of France in the event of an attack by Germany on the latter country.

2.—Some other guarantee by the powers of the security of France in the event of such a danger, to take the place of the Paris Defensive Alliance, which the United States refused to ratify.

France also may put forward the argument at the Washington Conference that she cannot restrict her army because it has been by her military establishment that she has forced Germany to carry out the terms of the Versailles Treaty, and that this will be the only way in which Germany can be forced completely to execute the treaty in the future.

The position of France in the conference will be important for two principal reasons:

1.—France has under arms the largest organized active army in the world today.

2.—France by making known her attitude on limiting land armament in the conference, probably will be put in the position of acting as spokesman for the other nations maintaining large military establishments and whose security would be menaced more from land than from sea.

The United Press has obtained from official American military sources the latest and most accurate data, dated August 27, last, giving the relative strength of the armies of all the nations of the world.

According to these figures, France's standing army totals 1,370,000 troops. This includes 120,000 native colonial troops. France's trained reserve aggregates 4,270,000 troops, all organized, and the largest organized reserve force in the world, with the exception of Italy.

Following is a table of the strength of the military establishments of the other principal nations, selected because of the importance of their military power and of the probability of their status coming up in the Washington Conference, and ranked in order of their relative strength in number of men:

(of little international importance, a badly organized and factional force, and a serious drain on the finances of China.)

being organized, including: National Guard and Officers' Reserve Corps; the remainder called trained reserves because of service in the World War, as in the case of Great Britain; this does not include either the plans of the War Department to build up an organized reserve of millions of men.

IMPORTANT NEW EVIDENCE FOUND FOR ARBUCKLE

(By United Press.)

Chicago, Oct. 23.—Virginia Rappe, movie actress, for whose murder Roscoe (Fatty) Arbuckle is held, suffered with a chronic bladder disease nine years ago, a doctor and two nurses swore in the district attorney's office here today.

Miss Rappe's ailment could easily result in puncture of the bladder in event of excitement, they swore.

The testimonies were taken by Frank Pester, assistant city attorney. Formal disposition will be taken late today when Arbuckle arrives from San Francisco.

Those who gave the testimony were: Mrs. James Roth, Chicago nurse; Miss Virginia Warren, Chicago nurse, and Dr. Maurice Rosenberg.

They all attended Miss Rappe, they said, during her illness here in 1912 and 1913.

Mrs. Roth said she was present at the premature birth of a child in 1912. The child lived five years, she said.

Mrs. Roth at first refused to testify. "I don't know whether to blacken the life of a dead woman or express evidence to save the life of Arbuckle," she said. She was finally persuaded to give evidence.

Dr. Rosenberg corroborated the testimony of Mrs. Roth as also did Miss Warren.

Mrs. Roth said threats were made against her in case she testified for Arbuckle.

SALTS IS FINE FOR KIDNEYS, QUIT MEAT

FLUSH THE KIDNEYS AT ONCE WHEN BACK HURTS OR BLADDER BOTHERS

No man or woman who eats meat regularly can make a mistake by flushing the kidneys occasionally, says a well-known authority. Meat forms uric acid which clogs the kidney pores so they sluggishly filter or strain only part of the waste and poisons from the blood, then you get sick. Nearly all rheumatism, headaches, liver trouble, nervousness, constipation, dizziness, sleeplessness, bladder disorders come from sluggish kidneys.

The moment you feel a dull ache in the kidneys or your back hurts, or if the urine is cloudy, offensive, full of sediment, irregular of passage or attended by a sensation of scalding, get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any reliable pharmacy and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia and has been used for generations to flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to activity, also to neutralize the acids in urine so it no longer causes irritation, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which all regular meat eaters should take now and then to keep the kidneys clean and the blood pure, thereby avoiding serious kidney complications. Adv.

ROTARY MOVEMENT IS ELABORATED

James H. Heron, Author, Humorist
and Entertainer Addresses a
Large Gathering

AUSPICES BRAINERD ROTARY

At Auditorium of First Methodist
Church, Former Mayor R. A.
Beise Presiding

"Jimmie" Heron of New York and of the world, clever, bright, humorous and a poet, spoke at the large audience, specially invited by the Brainerd Rotary club, under whose auspices he spoke, greeted him with frequent bursts of applause.

Heron held the assemblage enthralled; pathos and laughter, wit and sobriety were all embodied in his talk.

Dr. R. A. Beise, former mayor of Brainerd presided. The first speaker was Judge Walter F. Wieland, secretary of the Rotarians, and he gave a very interesting address on Rotary and what it accomplishes.

"The Spirit of Rotary"

"The Spirit of Rotary" was the theme of Mr. Heron's message, and he impressed all with the spiritual element embodied in the motto, "Service Above Self", its application to business as well as to society, the banding together of peoples of the world by the common tie known as the golden rule and its ultimate result, "He Profits Most, Who Serves Best", tracing a thought back to the teachings of Christ in its practical application.

Mr. Heron began with humor, evening a well grounded fund of Scotch wit, telling stories which had a point and purpose, but beneath the fun and laughter he carried a deep vein of sympathy for the down trodden and fallen, and he made it evident that he thought Rotarians must hold out helping hands to the weak, aiding the unfortunates and assisting the down and out.

Mr. Heron is Scotch, and also a poet, and he recited verses each having a meaning and a purpose which was unmistakable.

Service Slogan

Mr. Heron said the great Rotarian movement started with the idea of patronizing each other, but this was found to be too selfish and would not do, so it was changed to that of "business service", which is truly a spiritual ideal.

"The real significance of the present movement is to change the object of business from that of selfish ends to that of service and to lead the man gradually from the carnal to the spiritual, from the temporal to the eternal, from selfishness to love and form Adam to Christ".

He stated that the purpose of Rotary is the placing of the idea of the brotherhood of mankind into the sphere of "business" and to girdle the world itself with the golden rule of Christianity.

This he said is the destiny of Rotary and the speaker wove a fascinating picture in which morals and education were brilliantly illuminated by gems of rhetoric, poetic thoughts and imagery.

"He Profits Most Who Serves Best"

In his lecture Mr. Heron said the spirit or motto of Rotary is: "He Profits Most Who Serves Best", and that it was the intention of Rotary to put into effect in business the golden rule around the world.

Rotary was born of the soul of a man hungry for friendship. The first idea was that of mutually helping one another, but Rotary was bigger than that, it was more than a club or association, it became a movement for good.

"Business", said the speaker, "is a service to humanity". The business men of the United States, he said, are rapidly moving up the ladder of life and judging from the present progress the other agencies will have to look to their laurels or be left behind in the race.

Mr. Heron appealed to all to get all possible from life, and he pointed out that regardless of how rich or how poor, how high or how low, all will reap as bountifully as they have individually sown of the real values represented in this short span of human life.

Rights of Workers

Mr. Heron defended the rights of the workers. He said the time had come when the workers of this nation must be given proper recognition and that the employer must put the human touch into his relationship with the men who were putting their very lives into the creation of the wealth he enjoys.

Mr. Heron said it was formerly considered good business to hire a man for as small a wage as possible and work him just as long as you wanted to, but he says we now know

WHEN

WHEN in the silence of the night,
When darkness hugs the world so tight,
When all is hushed and quiet with sleep

Then haunting memories round me creep;
When I can spend that hour alone
And find the man I've never known;
When I can meet him face to face
And there commune with ME apace;

When I can take myself in hand
And measure up just where I stand;
When I can gaze into my heart
And see my worth upon life's chart;
When I can look back o'er the road
And count the times I've shirked my load
And estimate the hours I've spent
On things that were not permanent;

When I can realize the crime
Of spending worthlessly my time;
When I can call things by the name
I ought to, and accept the blame;
When I can place where it belongs
The reason for my countless wrongs;
When I can pile in one great heap
My faults, the harvest I shall reap;

Then knowing what I am can say,
"From this time onward, from today,
I'll work and serve and will to win
To mould a better man within;"
So, when I turn the searchlight on
The faults I had will all be gone,
And there shall stand revealed to me
The man, God meant that I should be.

JAMES H. HERON

Copyright, 1921, by James H. Heron that to pay a man less than he can comfortably live upon is robbery, and a man who does that now is stealing from the man he employs that which is justly his.

Gave a Playlet

His address concluded with the delineation of a three part playlet, in which one figure was a cold and heartless business man, who held to the adage, "Buyers Beware", and the play illuminated the striking contrast between this ancient and un-Christian policy and the Rotarian principle of "Service". The others characters were an employee and his wife, the former a member of Rotary, and the final triumph of Rotarian principles, and the overcoming of the cold-blooded methods of the older man, through the beneficent influence of service and good will shown.

Spoke at High School

On Friday morning Mr. Heron addressed the high school from 9:15 to 10 o'clock. He was given the closest attention. He complimented the pupils on their singing and said the way they sang songs with spirit and unity was a revelation to a Rotarian.

To Little Falls

This afternoon, traveling by automobile, and accompanied by the whole Brainerd Rotary club, a tour will be made to Little Falls where he will speak at the institution of a Rotary club there.

ARMISTICE COMMITTEES WILL MEET TONIGHT

The various committees having in charge the arrangements for the Armistice Day demonstration will meet in the Chamber of Commerce reading room tonight, Friday Oct. 28th. Each committee will report and final arrangements will be made after hearing these reports.

FOREIGN MILITARY MEET IN THE U. S.

(By United Press.)

New York, Oct. 28.—General John J. Pershing, just returned from France, attended today the reception to the Military Board of Allied Supply.

The foreign members of the military board arrived here Oct. 26 on the United States transport Cantigny. They are: General Charles Jean Mairie Payot, quartermaster general of the French army; General A. A. McHardy, of the British army; General Commandatore Hippolyte Parelli, of the Italian army, and Colonel Adolphe Comont, of the Belgian army.

ANNUAL MEETING OF RED CROSS

To be Held by Brainerd Chapter of the American Red Cross on Monday Afternoon, Oct. 31

AT CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

Important Meeting Which Should be Attended by Directors and All the Members

All Red Cross members of Crow Wing county are urgently requested to be present at the annual meeting of Brainerd Chapter of the American Red Cross on Monday afternoon, October 31, at 3 o'clock sharp in the Chamber of Commerce rooms.

As announced by the chairman, Mrs. J. A. Thabes, and the secretary G. W. Chadbourne, this is a very important meeting and should be largely attended not only by directors, but by all members.

The annual reports will be read and the election of seven directors will occur. It is hoped there will be a goodly attendance.

The sun gives 800,000 times more light than the moon.

An acre, under favorable conditions, will produce 20,000 pounds of onions.

WHY NOT NOW ?

You may have been thinking about opening an account at The Brainerd State Bank for some time. Perhaps several of our depositors who are friends of yours have recommended the bank to you.

Right now, when you have crop money which should be safe-guarded, would be a good time to open an account with us.

We offer you not only strength and safety, but friendly, dependable banking service directly interested in your individual success.

Come in!

ROTARY MOVEMENT IS ELABORATED

James H. Heron, Author, Humorist
and Entertainer Addresses a
Large Gathering

AUSPICES BRAINERD ROTARY

At Auditorium of First Methodist
Church, Former Mayor R. A.
Beise Presiding

"Jimmie" Heron of New York and of the world, clever, bright, humorous and a poet, spoke at the large au-dium of the First Methodist church on Thursday evening and the large audience, specially invited by the Brainerd Rotary club, under whose auspices he spoke, greeted him with frequent bursts of applause.

Heron held the assemblage enthralled; pathos and laughter, wit and soberness were all embodied in his talk.

Dr. R. A. Beise, former mayor of Brainerd presided. The first speaker was Judge Walter F. Wieland, secretary of the Rotarians, and he gave a very interesting address on Rotary and what it accomplishes.

"The Spirit of Rotary"

"The Spirit of Rotary" was the theme of Mr. Heron's message, and he impressed all with the spiritual element embodied in the motto, "Service Above Self", its application to business as well as to society, the banding together of peoples of the world by the common tie known as the golden rule and its ultimate result, "He Profits Most Who Serves Best", tracing a thought back to the teachings of Christ in its practical application.

Mr. Heron began with humor, evening a well grounded fund of Scotch wit, telling stories which had a point and purpose, but beneath the fun and laughter he carried a deep vein of sympathy for the down trodden and fallen, and he made it evident that he thought Rotarians must hold out helping hands to the weak, aiding the unfortunates and assisting the down and out.

Mr. Heron is Scotch, and also a poet, and he recited verses each having a meaning and a purpose which was unmistakable.

Service Slogan

Mr. Heron said the great Rotarian movement started with the idea of patronizing each other, but this was found to be too selfish and would not do, so it was changed to that of "business service", which is truly a spiritual ideal.

"The real significance of the present movement is to change the object of business from that of selfish ends to that of service and to lead the man gradually from the carnal to the spiritual, from the temporal to the eternal, from selfishness to love and from Adam to Christ."

He stated that the purpose of Rotary is the placing of the idea of the brotherhood of mankind into the sphere of "business" and to guide the world itself with the golden rule of Christianity.

This he said is the destiny of Rotary and the speaker wove a fascinating picture in which morals and education were brilliantly illuminated by gems of rhetoric, poetic thoughts and imagery.

"He Profits Most Who Serves Best"

In his lecture Mr. Heron said the spirit or motto of Rotary is: "He Profits Most Who Serves Best", and that it was the intention of Rotary to put into effect in business the golden rule around the world.

Rotary was born of the soul of a man hungry for friendship. The first idea was that of mutually helping one another, but Rotary was bigger than that, it was more than a club or association, it became a movement for good.

"Business", said the speaker, "is a service to humanity". The business men of the United States, he said, are rapidly moving up the ladder of life and judging from the present progress the other agencies will have to look to their laurels or be left behind in the race.

Mr. Heron appealed to all to get all possible from life, and he pointed out that regardless of how rich or how poor, how high or how low, all will reap as bountifully as they have individually sown of the real values represented in this short span of human life.

Rights of Workers

Mr. Heron defended the rights of the workers. He said the time had come when the workers of this nation must be given proper recognition and that the employer must put the human touch into his relationship with the men who were vetting their very lives into the creation of the wealth he enjoys.

Mr. Heron said it was formerly considered good business to hire a man for as small a wage as possible and work him just as long as you wanted to, but he says we now know

WHEN

WHEN in the silence of the night,
When darkness hugs the world so tight,
When all is hushed and quiet with sleep

Then haunting memories round me creep;
When I can spend that hour alone
And find the man I've never known;
When I can meet him face to face
And there commune with ME apace;

When I can take myself in hand
And measure up just where I stand;
When I can gaze into my heart
And see my worth upon life's chart;
When I can look back o'er the road
And count the times I've shirked my load
And estimate the hours I've spent
On things that were not permanent;

When I can realize the crime
Of spending worthless my time;
When I can call things by the name
I ought to, and accept the blame;
When I can place where it belongs
The reason for my countless wrongs;
When I can pile in one great heap
My faults, the harvest I shall reap;

Then knowing what I am can say,
"From this time onward, from today,
I'll work and serve and will to win
To mould a better man within."
So, when I turn the searchlight on
The faults I had will all be gone,
And there shall stand revealed to me
The man, God meant that I should be.

Pershing, just returned from France, attended today the reception to the Military Board of Allied Supply.

The foreign members of the military board arrived here Oct. 26 on the United States transport Cantigny.
They are: General Charles Jean Maurie Payot, quartermaster general of the French army; General A. A.
McHardy, of the British army; General Commandatore Hippolyte Parelli, of the Italian army, and Colonel Adolphe Cumont, of the Belgian army.

Brigadier-General Charles G. Dawes,
United States army, is the American member. The board was first organized to co-ordinate the services of supply and transportation when Marshal
Foch took supreme command of the Allied armies in France.

RUSSIA FOLLOWS FASHION EDICTS

American Couch Covers and Tablecloths Become Shawls and Underclothing.

AMATEUR EXPORTERS ACTIVE

Used American Clothing in Large Quantities Sent to People in Dire Distress Through National Lutheran Council, Shipping Brokers.

Fashions in Russia this season show a distinct North American influence. Skirts have a cut precisely like the prevailing mode in Philadelphia, sleeves hang at an angle familiar in Sioux Falls, and sweaters will be quite the rage. In fact, most of the wearing apparel over there is now being imported direct from the States. No group of factories have a monopoly on these shipments but in towns and country places all over the country amateur exporters are setting up a flourishing trade with Russia through their shipping brokers, the National Lutheran Council, at New York City.

Boys and girls are collecting last winter's things that they have outgrown, sending them to a market where children are not taking larger sizes this year. Thousands and thousands of Russian youngsters would be swallowed up in the clothes American children of like age would burst out of after a week or two. Their last year's clothes would do, and many times even year-before-last's, if they only had such a thing. For styles have been in the reverse over there for several years. It has about now got to where nothing much is left but motley combinations of salvaged 1914 models and two sacks. Children, even little babies, are wearing their father's old coats, often two to a coat. So many of the fathers no longer need coats. Horse blanket shawls are extensively in vogue, though they are rather scratchy, and tablecloths for underwear are so sought after that the whole country is practically snatched bare of them. Dining tables are almost out of use anyway. Little girls who have mothers and are extremely fortunate, wear loosely made dresses of chintz and cretonne that look like curtains and couch covers. In fact, they were curtains and couch covers in a previous incarnation.

Apparel shipped from the United States is immensely popular and is hardly unpacked before the eager crowds of customers take the last garment, don them proudly on the spot and wear them home. That is, where they have a home. Russians are most adaptable and wear these creations from another continent with perfect ease. Imagine the furor a Nebraska grain grower would stir up at the prospect of being togged out in a red corduroy middie blouse, belted in over olive green knickerbockers that tuck into high felt boots. But those swarthy black bearded Russians put on pinch-back coats without a murmur, nor do they flinch at tight trousers, even. They may shrug a bit—as much as the close fitting shoulder seems allow—and then go on about the day's business. Most of the business is along lines of exploration and food products. They search day and night for something to eat.

These non-professional American exporters are very busy now establishing the modes for winter and spring in Russia, and all through central Europe. Schoolgirls will be wearing Bramley dresses, wool skirts and overblouses. One-piece gingham frocks and slippers are going strong. Overcoats, sweaters, small boys' Buster Browns, Oliver Twists, and plain knicker suits, such as are hanging useless in a million American clothes closets, are in great demand. There is a steady market for capes and dolmans, and also for shoes—brogues, high shoes, sports shoes and heavy soled oxfords. Baby clothes have taken a brisk flurry, and all knit goods are speedily snapped up.

The cost of exporting is extremely low and there is no duty. In packages, bales, and barrels, clothing is sent to the National Lutheran Council warehouses, 31 Perry street, New York City, where it is promptly shipped to Russia and other parts of Europe, at 4 cents a pound. A whole family can be outfitted with $1.00 transportation charge from New York.

Red Cross Gives $310,000 to Aid 'Clean-Up' Drive

An appropriation of $310,000 for Red Cross work in connection with the "clean-up" campaign instituted by the Government to bring the claims of all disabled service men who are entitled to Federal aid before the proper government bureau for action, has been made by the American Red Cross. The Executive Committee of the American Red Cross in making the appropriation authorized the appropriation of $35,000 of this sum to the American Legion to defray the expense of the Legion representatives assigned to the various districts of the Veterans Bureau.

The remainder of the appropriation was authorized for apportionment among the several Divisions of the Red Cross for carrying on that part of the "clean-up" work that falls directly upon the Red Cross organization.

SOLD AT PRE-WAR PRICE

Right at this time, when every woman is interested in prices, when she is especially anxious to make a saving in her purchases, goods sold at pre-war prices surely make a strong appeal.

"25 ounces for 25 cents"—same price for over 30 years—is the price one of the well-known advertised brands of baking powder is being sold at by all the principal grocers throughout the country.

The fact that the government bought millions of pounds of K C Baking Powder speaks volumes for its quality and the manufacturers are the proud possessors of an "Award for Distinguished Service" presented by the government for service rendered during the war.

The grocers of Brainerd should enjoy a splendid sale on this baking powder because, being a quality product and sold at a fair price, it points the way to economy for every housewife in this vicinity. This is especially true since the manufacturers advertise that "you use less" than of higher priced brands.

Through their advertising the manufacturers are telling the readers of

Brainerd of the merits of K C Baking Powder and they are to be commended for the policy they have pursued during a period when we have all wondered "what's going up next?"

Bookkeeper Falls Heir to Fortune

Two of these attacks made me lose consciousness. After treating with our best doctors with little benefit, I decided to try Mayr's Wonderful Remedy, and it helped me at once. I have been entirely well for past year."

It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded. Johnson's Pharmacy and all leading druggists. Adv.

Skirts have a cut precisely like the prevailing mode in Philadelphia, sleeves hang at an angle familiar in Sioux Falls, and sweaters will be quite the rage. In fact, most of the wearing apparel over there is now being imported direct from the States. No group of factories have a monopoly on these shipments but in towns and country places all over the country amateur exporters are setting up a flourishing trade with Russia through their shipping brokers, the National Lutheran Council, at New York City.

Boys and girls are collecting last winter's things that they have outgrown, sending them to a market where children are not taking larger sizes this year. Thousands and thousands of Russian youngsters would be swallowed up in the clothes American children of like age would burst out of after a week or two. Their last year's clothes would do, and many times even year-before-last's, if they only had such a thing. For styles have been in the reverse over there for several years. It has about now got to where nothing much is left but motley combinations of salvaged 1914 models and two sacks. Children, even little babies, are wearing their father's old coats, often two to a coat. So many of the fathers no longer need coats. Horse blanket shawls are extensively in vogue, though they are rather scratchy, and tablecloths for underwear are so sought after that the whole country is practically snatched bare of them. Dining tables are almost out of use anyway. Little girls who have mothers and are extremely fortunate, wear loosely made dresses of chintz and cretonne that look like curtains and couch covers. In fact, they were curtains and couch covers in a previous incarnation.

Apparel shipped from the United States is immensely popular and is hardly unpacked before the eager crowds of customers take the last garment, don them proudly on the spot and wear them home. That is, where they have a home. Russians are most adaptable and wear these creations from another continent with perfect ease. Imagine the furor a Nebraska grain grower would stir up at the prospect of being togged out in a red corduroy middie blouse, belted in over olive green knickerbockers that tuck into high felt boots. But those swarthy black bearded Russians put on pinch-back coats without a murmur, nor do they blinch at tight trousers, even. They may shrug a bit—as much as the close fitting shoulder seems allow—and then go on about the day's business. Most of the business is along lines of exploration and food products. They search day and night for something to eat.

These non-professional American exporters are very busy now establishing the modes for winter and spring in Russia, and all through central Europe. Schoolgirls will be wearing Bramley dresses, wool skirts and overblouses. One-piece gingham frocks and slip-ons are going strong. Overcoats, sweaters, small boys' Buster Browns, Oliver Twists, and plain knicker suits, such as are hanging uselessly in a million American clothes closets, are in great demand. There is a steady market for capes and dolmans, and also for shoes—brogues, high shoes, sports shoes and heavy soled oxfords. Baby clothes have taken a brisk flurry, and all knit goods are speedily snapped up.

The cost of exporting is extremely low and there is no duty. In packages, bales, and barrels, clothing is sent to the National Lutheran Council warehouses, 31 Perry street, New York City, where it is promptly shipped to Russia and other parts of Europe, at 4 cents a pound. A whole family can be outfitted with $1.00 transportation charge from New York.

Red Cross Gives $310,000 to Aid 'Clean-Up' Drive

An appropriation of $310,000 for Red Cross work in connection with the "clean-up" campaign instituted by the Government to bring the claims of all disabled service men who are entitled to Federal aid before the proper government bureau for action, has been made by the American Red Cross. The Executive Committee of the American Red Cross in making the appropriation authorized the expenditure of $35,000 of this sum to the American Legion to defray the expense of the Legion representatives assigned to the various districts of the Veterans Bureau.

The remainder of the appropriation was authorized for apportionment among the several Divisions of the Red Cross for carrying on that part of the "clean-up" work that falls directly upon the Red Cross organization.

SOLD AT PRE-WAR PRICE

Right at this time, when every woman is interested in prices, when she is especially anxious to make a saving in her purchases, goods sold at pre-war prices surely make a strong appeal.

"25 ounces for 25 cents"—same price for over 30 years—is the price one of the well-known advertised brands of baking powder is being sold at by all the principal grocers throughout the country.

The fact that the government bought millions of pounds of K C Baking Powder speaks volumes for its quality and the manufacturers are the proud possessors of an "Award for Distinguished Service" presented by the government for service rendered during the war.

The grocers of Brainerd should enjoy a splendid sale on this baking powder because, being a quality product and sold at a fair price, it points the way to economy for every housewife in this vicinity. This is especially true since the manufacturers advertise that "you use less" than of higher priced brands.

Through their advertising the manufacturers are telling the readers of

Brainerd of the merits of K C Baking Powder and they are to be commended for the policy they have pursued during a period when we have all wondered "what's going on next?"

Bookkeeper Falls Heir to Fortune

"Upon the death of an uncle I inherited $50,000. I gave up my position and intended enjoying myself when I was stricken with a severe case of stomach trouble and colic attacks. Two of these attacks made me lose consciousness. After treating with our best doctors with little benefit, I decided to try Mayr's Wonderful Remedy, and it helped me at once. I have been entirely well for past year."

It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded. Johnson's Pharmacy and all leading druggists. Adv.
